

Steven
Ennis
Clare

Getting your windows and doors replaced is one of the most important jobs any family will ever have done on their house, it has to be right and it's often something people put off until the last possible moment.

Often this is from fear of a bad job or unpleasant or inefficient workers.

Well, myself and my family can heartily recommend Costello's. The quality of their products is first class. Their windows and doors look beautiful, enhancing the appearance of our home. Modern and yet elegant at the same time, 21st century windows and doors, yet with an old world character. The level of noise coming in is greatly reduced, whilst the level of heat escaping is similarly reduced. They are designed with your home in mind and thus are as individual as you are, which is as it should always be but so seldom is!

Moreover, their staff both office and fitters, are hardworking, ultra-proficient at their work (there is no substitute for talent and experience); friendly and engaging to have work with and in your home. You are never worried about their presence, quite the opposite as they are splendid.

To conclude; at all levels we couldn't recommend Costello's more.